

WHAT WE DO

From Farm

Cooler understands that the key to successful produce transportation is a deep understanding of your farm's unique shipping requirements. We have experience with both small- and large-scale operations and tailor our driver assignments to best fit your needs. From scaling protocols and pre-wash requirements to extended loading time expectations, our drivers arrive fully prepared to accommodate all of your shipping procedures.

To Shelf

Retail partners can present challenges in produce logistics. Late shipments can reduce viable shelf life, ultimately impacting profits. Additionally, big-box retailers often have complex scheduling processes and impose strict penalties for delays. Cooler is well versed in handling big box retailer requirements and will be your advocate and partner in ensuring your goods make it on shelves and into customers' carts.

Produce at Cooler Logistics

From berries and leafy greens to citrus and root vegetables, we've moved it all safely, swiftly, and consistently. Our team is trained in produce-specific best practices and works directly with growers, distributors, and retailers to optimize every link in the supply chain. We've earned the trust of leading farms, co-ops, and grocery chains by treating every load of produce like it's our own harvest. Whether it's a single pallet or a full truckload, we protect freshness at every step.
